Home Remodelling Warwick

Remodelling of 1960's property inspired by the Huf Haus style of Fachwerk

Spinney Hill in Warwick is an established residential area with a variety of 1960's and 1970's homes which are gradually being refurbished as new owners occupy them.

Our repeat and valued client recently purchased this property, having lived in the centre of Warwick previously and we had also renovated their traditional villa some years ago.

We were appointed to renovate this interesting property with subtle extensions and a makeover to update its style

The existing building inspired us to study the German style of Fachwerk; a framed system build method, recognisable in the mainstream by the Huf Haus brand.

This remodel has created a WOW factor for a reasonable budget, by carefully choosing products and materials to lift the building and create a stylish and distinctive home for contemporary living.
